

Yoli Soler – Bio

Yoli Soler grew up in California's San Joaquin Valley, surrounded by vineyards, cherry orchards, grazing Holstein cows, and a hardworking, close-knit family. She earned her B.A. in Sociology and Spanish with a minor in Chicano/a Studies from UC Davis, and later completed her teaching credential at Sacramento State.

Before making her way to San Diego, Yoli spent four years teaching Spanish in Sacramento. She moved to sunny San Diego 18 years ago—following her heart. In Chula Vista she taught another 10 years before transitioning to a new role at the very same campus!

In 2012, Yoli earned her Master's in School Leadership from the High Tech High Graduate School of Education. Her master's work and passion project centered on Family and Community Engagement, which led to the launch of the quarterly Family Bridge Meetings at HTH Chula Vista.

Currently, Yoli serves as Internship Coordinator and as an Instructional Coach at High Tech High Chula Vista. She enjoys supporting students in their internship journey—helping them craft strong résumés, preparing them through mock interviews, guiding them on how to present themselves during interviews, make effective cold calls, write professional emails, and navigate rejection. She also enjoys having meaningful conversations with students about their growth areas and career aspirations. She's thrilled to support junior interns as they connect with inspiring community partners. By the way, would you like to host and intern?
